

NATIONWIDE RETIREMENT INSTITUTE[®]

How working could affect your Social Security benefits

Today's retirees are living longer, healthier lives and often delaying retirement. If you're considering working into your 60s, you should understand the impact working may have on your Social Security benefits.

The earnings test

If you file for Social Security before full retirement age (FRA) and continue to work, there are limits to how much you can earn before the Social Security Administration (SSA) begins withholding some of your Social Security income.

Birth year	1943 – '54	1955	1956	1957	1958	1959	1960+
FRA	66	66 +2 mos	66 +4 mos	66 +6 mos	66 +8 mos	66 +10 mos	67

Withholdings

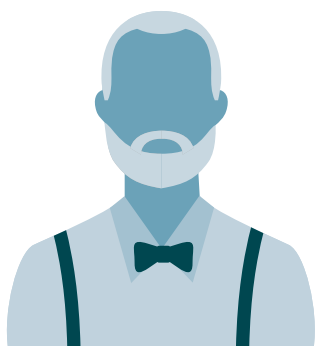

When you file for Social Security	What is withheld (annually)
Before FRA	$1 is withheld for every $2 earned above $18,960
The year you reach FRA	$1 is withheld for every $3 earned above $50,520
At or after you reach FRA	There are no withholdings

Income considered for these withholdings*	Income not considered for these withholdings
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • If you work for someone else, only your wages are considered • If you're self-employed, only your net earnings are considered 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Government benefits • Pensions • Investment earnings • Interest • Annuities • Capital gains

*Employee contributions to a pension or retirement plan are considered if included in gross wages.

Let's look at a quick example

Jim files for Social Security at 64 years old, has a FRA of 66 and earns $50,000 per year.

$50,000 Jim's earnings

$18,960 Earnings test limit for filing before FRA

$31,040 ÷ 2 = $15,520

total withheld from Jim's Social Security

This example is for illustrative purposes only, and individual results could vary.

Additional considerations

- Withholdings are not necessarily lost — your benefit is recalculated at FRA and continues through your life expectancy
- Withholdings are based on what you tell the SSA you plan to earn in a given year
- Withholdings are not prorated throughout the year — instead, full monthly benefit checks are withheld until the entire withholding amount is accounted for

Clients

Talk to your financial professional to learn more about how working can affect your Social Security benefits.

Financial professionals

For more resources, including a tool with the earnings test calculation, contact your wholesaler or the Retirement Institute Planning Team at 1-877-245-0763.

Nationwide® is on your side

• Not a deposit • Not FDIC or NCUSIF insured • Not guaranteed by the institution • Not insured by any federal government agency • May lose value

This material is not a recommendation to buy, sell, hold or roll over any asset, adopt an investment strategy, retain a specific investment manager or use a particular account type. It does not take into account the specific investment objectives, tax and financial condition, or particular needs of any specific person. Investors should discuss their specific situation with their financial professional.

This information is general in nature and is not intended to be tax, legal, accounting or other professional advice. The information provided is based on current laws, which are subject to change at any time, and has not been endorsed by any government agency.

Nationwide Investment Services Corporation (NISC), member FINRA, Columbus, Ohio. Nationwide Retirement Institute is a division of NISC.

Nationwide, the Nationwide N and Eagle, Nationwide is on your side and Nationwide Retirement Institute are service marks of Nationwide Mutual Insurance Company. © 2020 Nationwide

NFM-17248AO.3 (11/20)